Please see the flyer at the entrances to the church for further information. We have the kits here and can order more if needed. We will have an information night on colon cancer with instructions on how to use colorectal kits and fill out forms. This is an opportunity to detect any abnormal bleeding and get immediate attention. The screening kits are free. If you have any questions, please call Jean at the Rectory at 526-4945.

FATHER DAVE

Slowdownyou speak too fast. I cannot understand you. Every now and then somebody has to remind me to slow down. Often someone in my family tells me. Then I have to make a concentrated effort to take more time in forming my words. I do it for a while, but sooner or later I speed up and need another reminder. I do not know if this happens because I grew up in a large family and found it hard to get a word in edgeways at times. I know that it does happen and I try to correct it.

The same happens with the prayers we say together. A common, but fast, pace takes over and soon we seem to race towards the end of the prayer. We do need to slow down the pace of our prayers, the Profession of faith and the Our Father at Mass, many responses at Mass and the Hail Mary during the rosary. We need to slow down so that we can think about the meaning of the prayers we say. We need to slow down so that we do not pray by rote. We need to slow down so that others can keep up with us. We need to slow down in order to pray. It may help to read the prayer or to think of what the prayer means or spend more time enunciating them.

LITURGY

I wrote last week about a change in your response to the greeting, "The Lord be with you." The bishops have also proposed changing the words in the profession of faith. The Eastern Catholic Churches use the plural form we have used. The Western Church has used the singular that we used to use. They have proposed returning to the singular, "I believe" proper to the Western Catholic Church. By using the singular, the liturgy will challenge each of us to make his own or her own the profession we all make in common. It will make it similar to the wedding vows a bride and groom make to each other; rather than say, "We do", they each say, "I do".

I do not foresee making any changes before the first of Advent. The Sacred Congregation on Worship has to approve any changes before we can implement them. It will probably take some time to prepare copies of the changes for everyone.

The principles of translating have changed over the years. At one time we looked at freer translations of the Latin and tried to say the same thing in a better way. We found out that we could not always do this, so we will return to translation more faithful to the original texts we have had.
