DEACON JACK RETIRES

After thirty-one active years as a deacon, Deacon Jack has received permission from the archbishop to retire. He still remains a deacon and can officiate as he has in the past, but he can name his own schedule. By retiring, he and Peggy can feel freer to come and go as they wish. We will not schedule him, but he can serve whenever he wants. We shall have a reception for him later on.

WEDDINGS

Congratulations to Steve and Peggy Condon who will celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on May 11.

REST IN PEACE

Nicholas Grillot received Christian burial on Monday of this past week. Please remember him and his families in your prayers.

CATHOLIC MINISTRIES APPEAL

Holy Family has pledged $4,574 or 28% of our goal with responses from 38% of our parishioners. St. Denis has pledged $19,320.00 or 215% of our goal with responses from 26% of our parishioners. We keep moving closer to 100% response. Keep up your good work. The archdiocese has reached 80% of its goal.

FATHER DAVID VINCENT'S COLUMN

We have had at least six funerals this Easter season. I asked God why. I get the distinct impression that he wants me to see all funerals in the light of his Son's resurrection. Death does not end relationships, but it does change them.

LITURGY: LANGUAGE

In what language did Rome first celebrate the Eucharist? Does Greek surprise you? The first Christians in Rome used Greek as their language. Later, when the Christians spoke Latin, the Church changed to Latin.

The sixteenth century saw a movement towards the vernacular, but the Protestant Reformation put an end to it. This use of language helped people distinguish the Catholics from the Protestants. In the twentieth, the vernacular movement revived. By this time, the Church had enough trust that her members could tell the difference between Catholic and Protestant worship that the Second Vatican Council authorized the use of modern languages in the liturgy. Today, God has blessed us with the use of our native languages in the liturgy.
